DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 20-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Amin et al. (U.S. 6,353,398) in view of Lohtia (U.S. 6,560,456).

Regarding claim 20, Amin discloses a computer readable medium comprising software configured to instruct a computer (10c) to [fig.5, col.4, line 51 to col.6, line 10 and col.8, lines 20-49]:

- determining an event occurrence [figs.1-5, col.1, line 63 to col.2, line 20 and col.4, line 51 to col.6, line 10];
- determining location indicia / hospitals, dealers (70), stores / restaurants (60) [figs.1-5, col.1, line 63 to col.2, line 20 and col.4, line 51 to col.6, line 10];
- sending information to a select communication device (50) when the event occurrence and the location indicia correlate with an event criteria and location criteria [figs.1-5, col.1, lines 45-50 , col.2, line 53 to col.3, line 47 and col.4, line 51 to col.6, line 10].

Amin does not specifically disclose a phrase “user desired profile” in the system for notification that outlines when certain types of information are to be delivered.

However, Amin clearly teaches a system for notification includes a focus directed system (20a) combines the directed information system mention above with a selectively defined parameter may include demographic and other related criteria for linking specific information to a regionally located user as individual incomes, survey information of a user, buying history / pattern [fig.3, col.4, lines 3-28].

Lohtia teaches the system for providing a short message service to communication devices such as wireline telephone (320), mobile phone (301) or other subscriber unit as a user requests data information such as stock quotations, location information, weather information, movie theatre, entertainment preferences or any other information as the user profile is set that the user may require from Internet (303), the World Wide Web or other sources via Distributed Wireless Web Information Service Gateway (302) which correlates identity information to a particular user file in database (311). The information may be formatted according to a preselected configuration that is stored in a user service information profile. The service information profile database may be accessible to and serve one or more wireless networks [figs.3-4, col.2, lines 37-56, col.4, lines 22-50, col.7, lines 16-42, col.8, lines 13-45 and col.10, lines 6-28 and abstract].

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to employ the teaching of Lohtia the system of Amin which user may receive any desired information based on time or predetermined times, location and event triggers that outlines when certain types information are to be delivered.

Regarding claims 21-22, Amin does not specifically disclose the determining an event occurrence and location indicia with a plurality of steps as claimed by the applicant.

However, Amin clearly teaches the system for delivering information such as a notification or other content . The system for directing and receiving information to and from geographically relevant locations. The system links information from Internet or other databases when both the event occurrence and location indicia / hospitals, dealers (70), stores / restaurants (60) is actual location or area and proximity of to a location , the information is requested can be sent to the appropriate communication device such as a computer / hand-held mobile , webpage, e-mail system is selected by the user [figs.1-4, col.1, line 63 to col.2, line 20 and col.3, lines 7-47] and

Art Unit: 2636

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have the teaching of Lohtia the system of Amin to provide directing information to users who met certain criteria.

Regarding claim 23, Amin discloses a method / a system for notification [figs.1-3, col.1, lines 6-11 and col.2, lines 53-66] comprising:

- determining an event occurrence [figs.1-4, col.1, line 63 to col.2, line 20];
- determining location indicia / hospitals, dealers (70), stores / restaurants (60) [figs.1-4, col.1, line 63 to col.2, line 20];
- sending information to a select communication device (50) when the event occurrence and the location indicia correlate with an event criteria and location criteria [figs.1-4, col.1, lines 45-50 and col.2, line 53 to col.3, line 47].

Amin does not specifically disclose a phrase “user desired profile” in the system for notification that outlines when certain types of information are to be delivered.

However, Amin clearly teaches a system for notification includes a focus directed system (20a) combines the directed information system mention above with a selectively defined parameter may include demographic and other related criteria for linking specific information to a regionally located user as individual incomes, survey information of a user, buying history / pattern [fig.3, col.4, lines 3-28].

Furthermore, Lohtia teaches the system for providing a short message service to communication devices such as wireline telephone (320), mobile phone (301) or other subscriber unit as a user requests data information such as stock quotations, location information, weather information, movie theatre, entertainment preferences or any other information as the user profile is set that the user may require from Internet (303), the World Wide Web or other sources via Distributed Wireless Web Information Service Gateway (302) which correlates identity information to a particular user file in database (311). The information may be formatted according to a preselected configuration that is stored in a user service information profile. The service information profile database may be accessible to and serve one or more wireless networks [figs.3-4, col.2, lines 37-56, col.4, lines 22-50, col.7, lines 16-42, col.8, lines 13-45 and col.10, lines 6-28 and abstract].

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to employ the teaching of Lohtia the system of Amin which user may receive any desired information based on time or predetermined times, location and event triggers that outlines when certain types information are to be delivered.
